

Robert Rotstein

Robert Rotstein is an entertainment attorney with many years of experience in the industry. He is a co-chair of Mitchell Silberberg & Knupp's Entertainment & IP Litigation Practice Group. Mr. Rotstein specializes in litigation with a focus on intellectual property and technology, copyright, and entertainment matters. He has represented all of the major motion picture studios and many well-known writers, producers, directors, and musicians. Over the course of his legal career, Mr. Rotstein has represented clients such as Michael Jackson, Quincy Jones, Lionel Richie, and James Cameron

Mr. Rotstein received his J.D. from the University of California Los Angeles School of Law, graduating Order of the Coif, and he served as an editor on the UCLA Law Review. Upon graduation from law school, Robert served as a judicial law clerk to then Circuit Judge and later U.S. Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy. He is a past president of the LA Copyright Society and has taught as an adjunct professor at Loyola Law School.