Southwestern Law School prohibits discrimination and harassment on the basis of race (including hairstyle and hair texture), ethnicity, color, religion, creed, ancestry, national origin, sex, gender (including pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding, or related medical conditions), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, parental status, marital status, age (40 and over), disability (mental and physical), medical condition, citizenship status, military status or service, veteran status, genetic information, or any other classification protected by law in matters of admissions, employment, housing, or services, or in the educational programs (including retention of students) or activities Southwestern operates. Please direct all inquiries regarding Southwestern's nondiscrimination policies to:

General Counsel 3050 Wilshire Boulevard Los Angeles, CA 90010 (213) 738–6626

Definitions:

Discrimination includes treating someone differently because of their actual or perceived inclusion in a protected class in matters of admissions, employment, housing, or services, or in the educational programs or activities that Southwestern operates.

Harassment in employment means any unwelcome behavior that is reasonably regarded as offensive and that is based on a protected category listed above that 1) sufficiently offends, humiliates, distresses, or intrudes upon its victim to disrupt the victim's emotional tranquility in the workplace; 2) affects the victim's ability to perform the job as usual; or 3) otherwise interferes with and undermines the victim's personal sense of well-being.

Sexual Harassment is any unwelcome sexual advance, request for sexual favors, or other unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature, whether verbal, physical, graphic, or otherwise.

Gender-Based Harassment is harassment based on sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression, which may include acts of aggression, intimidation, or hostility, whether verbal, physical, graphic, or otherwise. To qualify as Gender-Based Harassment, the conduct need not involve conduct of a sexual nature.

Harassment can be divided into two types of conduct:

- 1. Quid Pro Quo Harassment. Submission to or rejection of such conduct is made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of an individual's employment, academic standing, or participation in any aspect of a Law School program or activity or is used as the basis for the Law School's decisions affecting the individual.
- 2. Hostile Environment. A hostile environment exists when the conduct is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent that it unreasonably interferes with, limits, or deprives an individual from participating in or benefiting from the Law School's education or employment programs and/or activities. Whether conduct is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent is determined both from a subjective and objective perspective.

The Law School will respond promptly and effectively to reports of any prohibited conduct and will take appropriate action to prevent, to correct, and when necessary, to remedy behavior that violates the Law School's Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation Policy or Sexual Misconduct Policy.
