Note: Entering class information is current as of October 12, 2023. Details are available at www.swlaw.edu/entering-class-info.

Southwestern Law School does not discriminate based on race (including hairstyle and hair texture), ethnicity, color, religion, creed, ancestry, national origin, sex, gender (including pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding, or related medical conditions), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, parental status, marital status, age (40 and over), disability (mental and physical), medical condition, citizenship status, military status or service, veteran status, genetic information, or any other basis prohibited by applicable law in its admissions, programs, or activities.

Please check <https://www.swlaw.edu/online> for updates as to whether we are able to accept residents of your state for admission to the Online J.D. program. As of the date of printing (Oct. 1, 2023), we are not authorized to offer online programs in Alaska, but we are hoping to make the Online J.D. program available to residents of Alaska through an exemption. If the exemption is approved, Alaska students should be aware that our authorization to enroll residents of Alaska in our Online J.D. would be under AS 14.48 and 20 AAC 17.015 because the program is online or distance delivered and does not have a physical presence in the state.
